Item No. I – President's Opening Address

3. At the outset, the President welcomed all Members of the house to the 46th Annual General Meeting of the YAI. He stated that it was his privilege to preside over the meeting after being elected as YAI President and thanked all present for their support.

4. The President thereafter stated that being a maritime nation, India had tremendous potential to excel in yachting but regrettably the country had not been able to produce the desirable number of yachtspersons who excelled in this sport at national and international events. He, however, expressed the hope that with the concerted effort of all present in the audience, competitive performance in yachting could be given the necessary impetus and improved significantly.

5. The President thereafter stated that there were three main areas which needed urgent attention to improve sailing in the country. The President elaborated that the first aspect that needed attention was to identify talent especially in our coastal areas and mentioned that some of the clubs were doing a marvelous job in this regard both on West and East coast. In order to ensure this, he added, there was an urgent need to popularise yachting at the grass roots level, and identify, support and mentor talented school children with an inclination and aptitude for the sport. He sought the support from like-minded people in such talent hunt. The President stated that some of the sources to tap the talent were NCC and Sea Cadet Corps. He further brought out that the Navy had taken certain measures in its training establishments to improve the sailing skills of naval personnel.

6. The President stated that the second aspect that needed impetus was building of infrastructure at sailing clubs in order to support and promote the sport. This, he added, also needed the close involvement and active participation of all Member Clubs.

7. The President stated that the third and most important aspect was to bring competitiveness in the sport with the aim to achieve podium finishes in international events. The President thereafter highlighted the need for all concerned to work collectively with Members clubs, yachtspersons, coaches and the other yachting functionaries to nurture and support talented yachtspersons with the objective of qualifying for Olympic Games 2016 and winning medals at Asian Games 2018 and Olympic Games 2020. He also brought out that despite best efforts, India could achieve only one podium finish at Asian Games 2014, which was an important, but modest achievement.

8. The President apprised all members that in order to elevate the level of yachting accomplishments, the YAI would soon bring out a Vision Document that would guide and synergise all efforts to improve and promote the sport in the country.

9. The President thereafter requested the Honorary Secretary General to commence the proceedings.

Item No. II - To approve and confirm the minutes of the Annual General Meeting of 17 Oct 2013.

10. The HSG brought out that the next item on the agenda was to confirm the minutes of the General Body meeting held on 17 Oct 2013, the minutes of which were issued on 19 Nov 2013.
