5. At the outset, the President welcomed all Members of the house to the 48th Annual General Meeting of the YAI and stated that he was happy to address the august audience, which represents the collective wisdom of yachtsmen and sailing enthusiasts from India.

6. The President, thereafter, stated that over the last two years, it had been our endeavor to promote the sports of Yachting. He stated that the YAI had set a vision to identify talent at the grass root level in a vast country which was essentially a maritime nation and which had plenty of scope and opportunity that can be provided for the sports of Yachting. He further stated that the intention was to take this vision forward by setting up various facilities and infrastructure all across the country to popularize the sport of yachting.

7. The President stated that it was important to provide coaching and assistance in training so as to hone the skill of young yachtpersons and finally to aim towards providing podium finishers. The President thanked every organisation, yachtpersons who were present in the hall and also those who were not present. He acknowledged their whole hearted support to take forward the vision as no single individual or no single organisation may achieve YAI's Vision, until the yachting fraternity were together in realizing this vision.

8. The President stated that the intention was to have greater interaction across the board from the junior most and the youngest sports person to the senior most who have the experience across the country. The President stated that he had the opportunity to visit various clubs to witness sailing activities and he was delighted to see the enthusiasm which existed among the young boys and girls who had taken to the yachting.

9. The President stated that the young sports persons out in the field bring laurels to the game and as YAI we need to give them the necessary push so that we can put India on the yachting map of the world.

10. The President stated that as per the MYAS directives the General Rules of the YAI were to comply with the National Sports Development Code 2011. The YAI had set up a committee to suggest the amendments, this committee had done an extensive study and taken help of legal team to draft out the suggested amendments. He requested all members to support the amendments and give their suggestions if any during the course of the procedure which the HSG would explain during his briefing.

11. The President stated that he was aware that for some time the YAI was without any coaching staff because of which the national team and other yachtspersons have suffered in their training. He further stated that the YAI had advertised through the World Sailing website and other social media for hiring of a competent coach. We had received a good response and the process for appointment of the Chief Coach was underway with the MYAS/ SAI. However he clarified to the house that while the Chief National Coach would focus on the National Squad, the YAI would endeavor to hire second rung of coaches so that the various Clubs and Associations could be provided with the required assistance in training the young yachtspersons.

12. The President specially appreciated the initiative taken by the Navy and Army in buying equipment and creating infrastructure to popularize the game. He also lauded some of the other clubs such as TNSA and NSS Bhopal in shaping young talent at their sailing clubs. The President thereafter stressed upon the need to start training and preparing for the Asian Games 2018 and the Olympics 2020.
